HAZE.

Oh, hazy days of royal tint, a sweet celestial haze
Impurples all the fading world and folds its mystic cloak
About my soul till substance seems a weird, illusive thing,
And only vapory visions of enchantment round me swing.

The rugged road and duty's load are blurred
By misty haze that comes to me on some idle
A gentle presence leads me on to some idyllic Beyond the hills, to meet, perchance, the spirit of my dream—
The prestices of a blissful realm, where peace is all supreme.
—George D. Bowen in Chicago Interior Ocean.

IN A MEXICAN MARKET.
Parsnips, Pumpkins, Scrap Iron and Hotted
Grasshoppers For Sale.

The articles seen in the market I will here give as they were written down during a Sunday morning visit, says a writer in the New York Advertiser.

One department is under cover and is filled with assorted fruits, including oranges, lemons, limes, pineapples, pears, peaches, plums, bananas, guavas, alligator pears, coconuts and many other tropical fruits, most of which, owing to the high market tax and costly transportation, sell at about New York prices. The streets and sidewalks in the vicinity are lined with men, women and children, who are seated on the ground besides the ordinary vegetable market product, parrots, pigeons, untrained puppies, game chickens, pet lambs, halibut pugs and kids. Then there are heaps of old iron, birdcages, cheap calico, brass jewelry, boiled corn, potatoes, steamed pumpkins, beans, pepper, cooked and raw pigs' feet, sheep heads, hearts, lights and entrails. There are also flints and tinder for starting fires, metal mounted stones for grinding corn, roots, bark and medicinal herbs and dye woods. Close by we see fried shrimp and grasshoppers. Each one cooked whole and eaten so. The latter are about the size of our common grasshopper, but are entirely red, but as to looks I would just as soon try to go to the common "hopper" of the north. Besides these the natives gather the eggs of the swamp fly and boil them into a paste and eat them with salt, chili (pepper) and tortillas. The fly and its eggs are some what smaller than the house fly, while the eggs are about the size and color of a hayseed. In fact, everything is eaten here that the human stomach will digest or anything that is capable of being converted into soup.

Odorous Flowers.
One who has taken a walk through Shaw's garden will hardly believe the assertion that the majority of the flowers of the world are without odor, but such is the case. Take the flora of Europe as an illustration. Four thousand and two hundred species and varieties of flowers have been named and classified by the botanists of that country, and it has been found that less than 10 per cent of the whole give forth distinguishable odors or have perceptible colors. The very common flowers of the world are white, colorless varieties predominating by at least one third, and only one-sixth of that class are odoriferous. In Europe there are 1,194 species of white flowers, only 200 of which are fragrant. In the same country they have 951 kinds of yellow flowers, of which number only 77 are odoriferous. Out of 828 varieties of red flowers they only have 84 that give forth odor, and in 9 of these "the smell is far from being fragrant." Of the 594 blue species only 34 are fragrant, and of the 308 violet blues only 12. Next week we will give a "note" entitled "The Odor of Flowers," which will give many curious points in that branch of botanical knowledge. —St. Louis Republic.

Three Suns and an Inverted Rainbow.
The following is taken literally word for word from a rare copy of the Brighton (England) Advertiser of June 6, 1797: "A rare phenomenon is reported from St. Malo. Recently during the afternoon, between the hours of 4 and 5, three perfect suns were seen all in a row above the western horizon. The sky was very clear at the time, and there was no one who saw the unusual sight that believes it to have been a mirage or other atmospheric illusion. The central seemed more brilliant than his two luminous attendants, and between the three there seemed to be a communication in the shape of waves of light coming from the suns. At the same time a rainbow made its appearance at a short distance above the central sun, upside down—that is to say, the two ends pointed toward the zenith and the bow's neck toward the horizon."

To Whom It May Interest.
A middle aged lady dressed in a brown silk entered a crowded cable car on the North Side.

A young man in a corduroy suit half rose, glanced at her and sat down again. Should this meet the eye of the middle aged lady dressed in the brown silk she will be interested in learning that the young man in the corduroy suit is a lover of birds.

And she will recall the fact that she wore on her bonnet the stuffed remains of four ruby throated humming birds. —Chicago Tribune.

The Largest Window.
The largest opalescent glass window in the world is in the new St. Paul's church at Milwaukee. It is what is known as a nave window, the lower half being composed of three immense panels and the upper half of a splendid rose and tracery in a semicircle of brilliancy. This monster window in its extreme measurement is 80 feet in height, in width and exactly 24 feet in height. It is beautifully executed, the subject being the crucifixion—in fact, it is an exact copy of Dore's masterpiece, "Christ Leaving the Precorium." There are over 500 life size figures represented on this wonderful window. —St. Louis Republic.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1894.

THE ST. LOUIS CONFERENCE.

Chairman Taubeneck has issued a call for a conference of the People's party to be held at St. Louis December 28th and 29th, for the purpose of discussing the present political situation. All who believe in monetary reform and opposed to Clevelandism and Shermanism are invited to the conference.

There were nearly 2,000,000 votes polled in opposition to those issues at the late election, and it is believed that every man who voted against them in 1894, and very many more will vote against them in 1896. The National Watchman, the organ of the People's party, referring to the conference and the opposition to the Wall street parties last November, gives the following sound advice:

"It should be a gathering of the good men and true, the cool-headed and conservative, the earnest and intelligent, and above all the honest and experienced. The times are big with future complications, and the weal or woe of the great plain people hangs in our judgment upon the outcome of this conference. Leave the cranks at home. Leave the impracticables at home. Leave the one ideal and the irreconcilables at home. Send only those who are willing to listen to each other, who will weigh carefully all propositions and who will not for the common good of all. Now is the time to begin the next campaign, and this conference should determine the party slogan for 1896."

"Let us have no more side-tracks, no more three-column platforms. The Populist wrecks which strew many States can be traced directly to their State platforms. We can never expect to gain success when platforms take in the pet hobby of or conciliate every crank in the nation. If the late election has taught us anything it is to push less issues with increased vigor. A concentration of effort and a continuity of purpose will alone bring victory to our cause. Let this conference decide the battle cry and then let every lover of his race, with all the energy of his being, enter into the contest."

PITY THE POOR MILLIONAIRES.

Few people realize what a tremendous shrinkage there has been in the fortunes of wealthy men during the past year, says Ward McAllister in the New York World. It is estimated that there are at present $1,600,000,000 of capital lying idle and paying no interest. A friend of mine who had an income of $50,000 a year is now actually pinched by the hard times, his bonds and stocks paying him nothing on his investment.

It should not be forgotten that the millionaire suffers in proportion during the hard times in the same way that the poor man suffers. It is a very unpleasant thing for a man possessed of millions to be obliged to stand by and see his fortune reduced from one-fifth to one-half in a few months. The poor man is satisfied to earn wages and live comfortably, having nothing to lose. But the rich man, aside from being obliged to lay out enormous sums in order to live is haunted by the constant fear of losing all his gains. In addition to this he is looked upon to provide charity and is expected to act as a target for crazy bomb throwers.

THE AIM OF PLUTOCRACY.

An exchange says the following are the apparent aims of plutocracy at the present time:

The complete destruction of silver as money.

The elimination of all legal tender paper money.

The issue of all paper money by the banks.

To make gold coin the only legal tender.

To increase the standing army.

To make strikes mutiny punishable with death or imprisonment.

To bond the nation with all the debt it can bear.

And finally to the complete supremacy of the money owners over the people.

EX-SENATOR WARNER MILLER of New York is in Washington looking after the interests of the Nicaragua Canal Company, in which he is still a stockholder. Mr. Miller declares the concessions are all right and that it is only a question of money as to the completion of the work.

"We have expended upward of $4,000,000," he said, and have done a great deal of work. We have the best and most complete dredging plant in the world. We have built ten miles of railroad and have purchased three locomotives and fifty cars. We have put up seventy buildings and have the most thoroughly equipped machine shop in Central America. Two miles of the canal have been dredged to a depth of thirty feet and 270 feet wide, and ten miles more of tropical growth, which is very heavy, has been cleared out. I think the canal would have been completed by this time if it had not been for the opposition of Secretary Bayard in 1895."

The ex-Senator added that the people of the United States now realize what an enormous advantage this canal would be in the matter of trade with China and Japan, and he thinks this fact will materially aid in the enactment of a law by the present Congress which will insure the completion of the work under the auspices of the United States.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS.

The Cattle Kings and Sugar Trust About to Clash.

NEWS FROM THE ORIENT.

A Pretty Severe Sentence for Stealing Sixty Dollars.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, December 12.—Senate bill to create a Territory of Indiana was referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs. Call's resolution to authorize the appointment of a committee to investigate the operation of the Louisiana or Honduras Lottery Co. in Florida was then taken up. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Contingent expenses.

Pensions of $100 per month each were voted to Mary Palmer Banks, widow of Major-General N. P. Banks, to Mrs. Katherine Todd Crittenden and to Major-General A. McClelland.

On motion of Allen of Nebraska the Senate passed an amendment to the House bill amending section 8 of the act of March 3, 1889, withdrawing public lands from private entry. He explained that the bill was important at this time on account of the large number of persons in the Northwest driven from their homes on account of the drought.

At 2 o'clock Senator Gray moved to take up the Sugar bill. Motion lost—23 to 27.

Vest then moved to take up his cloture resolution. Motion lost—24 to 34.

The consideration of the Nicaragua Canal bill was then resumed. Morgan of Alabama, in a long speech, favored the completion of the canal by the United States Government.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

On motion of Breckinridge of Kentucky the House went into a Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the Urgency Deficiency bill. The bill carried $2,556,795, but there were two disputed items—an appropriation of $245,000 for the collection of the Income Tax, and $250,000 for the expenses of special examiners of the Pension Office.

An attempt to secure an agreement fixing the limit of general debate, failed, owing to objections by Bartlett, who led the opposition to the Income Tax, and Henderson, who led the opposition to the appropriation to special examiners of the Pension Office.

Lynched by a Mob.

FORT JONES, Cal., December 12.—William Deane, the Indian who murdered William Barmore at Happy Camp last Thursday, was taken from the custody of Constable Dixon by a masked mob early this morning and hanged to a derrier. Dixon was on his way to Yreka with the prisoner and stopped for the night at Fort Jones Hotel. About 2 o'clock twelve masked men entered the room where he was sleeping with the prisoner. They overpowered Dixon, and tying Deane hand and foot, carried him out and strung him to a derrier. The mob waited for some time to make sure he was dead and then quietly dispersed. When the citizens of Fort Jones awoke this morning they saw Deane's body dangling from the derrier, where it remained until cut down by the Coroner at 9 o'clock. There is no clue to the identity of the mob, and the Coroner found that Deane met his death at the hands of unknown persons. Deane lived here and had a bad reputation.

Sentenced to Be Hanged for Train Robbery.

FLORENCE, A. T., December 12.—Judge Rouse has sentenced Oscar Rogers, convicted of train robbery, to be hanged February 8. Rogers, with Frank Arner and John Donovan, held up the east-bound overland at Mariopa station. They secured $60 from Wells, Fargo & Company, and a gold watch. Arner was captured the following day after a desperate fight.

Arner was sentenced to thirty years in prison. Rogers was captured some time after near Yuma. Donovan is still at large.

Territorial lawyers are of the opinion that the law making train robbery a capital offense is unconstitutional and that the Supreme Court will order a new trial on the charge of robbery only.

A System of Prosecution. SACRAMENTO, December 12.—Deputy United States Marshal Maloney today arrested Melvin Hatch and Jack Heaney under indictments by the Federal Grand Jury. Hatch is the striker who was acquitted at Woodland last week on the charge of murder involved in the Yolo train wrecking case. Heaney was at Red Bluff during the early days of the strike. The charges are conspiracy and obstructing the Government mails.

Result of the Official Count.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 12.—The official canvass of the vote in San Francisco for Governor cast at the last election was completed at the Registrars office this afternoon. The result shows Budd 42,069, Estee 20,616, Webster 6,456; Budd's plurality 11,454. This is about 100 votes less than the plurality given Budd by the unofficial returns.

BRAND THE CLAIM AS FALSE.

World's Fair Officials Expose a Pretender to an Award.

CHICAGO, Ill., December 13.—One of the odd results of the World's Fair is the claim now made to awards by some who were not even exhibitors. Officials of the Exposition have not as yet taken final action in the matter, believing the quick wit of the people will detect the spurious claims. But to the case of a New York baking powder, that has been widely advertised an award, the attention of the Chief of Awards for Agriculture, has been directed. He brands the claim of this pretender as false, declaring "Neither the records of this department, nor the official catalogue of the World's Columbian Exposition, show that this New York Company was an exhibitor; consequently it could not receive an award at the World's Fair."

Those who fairly won their honors at the Fair seem disposed to treat this fraud as any other fraud should be treated. The Price Baking Powder Company, of Chicago, having received the highest award, say they are convinced their claims, and those of all other holders of rightful honors will be fully vindicated by the public.

Two Great Interests About to Fall Out.

CHICAGO, December 12.—It is stated that the vast cattle interests of the West, representing $500,000,000 of invested capital, is about to grapple with the Sugar Trust. American meat exports are prohibited from Germany on account of discrimination against German sugar. The direction of the fight against the Trust will be lodged with F. D. Armour, Nelson Morris and E. S. Swift, Chicago kings of the meat trade. The United States Senate will be the scene of battle between these big interests. Free sugar is a necessity for free importation of meat products to the great meat consuming markets of Europe. The foreign meat trade amounts to $15,000,000 annually. In this fight the meat men feel they can command the support of Senators from every Western and Southern State and put up a combination that will be invincible.

Oriental Affairs.

NEW YORK, December 12.—A cable to the World from Yokohama says that the Japanese troops entered Port Arthur on November 21st, and massacred practically the entire population in cold blood. Defenseless and unarmed people were butchered in their houses and their bodies were unrespectably mutilated.

There was an unrestrained reign of murder, which continued for three days. The whole town was plundered with appalling atrocities. It was the first stain upon Japanese civilization. The Japanese in this instance relapsed into barbarism. All pretenses that circumstances justified the atrocities are false. The civilized world will be horrified by the details. Foreign correspondents, horrified by the spectacle, left the army in a body.

A Supervisory Board Organized.

LOS ANGELES, December 12.—A Congress of Supervisors from Southern California, representing seven counties, to-day effected a permanent organization with one Supervisor from each county constituting the Supervisory Board of Southern California. Their efforts will be to advance the interests of this section regarding immigration, commerce, harbors, Nicaraguan canal and State division. The State division resolution prepared by Leason of San Diego was not introduced, his colleagues insisting it should be referred to the Supervisory Board which will meet Thursday.

Estee Proposes to Show up the Fraud.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 12.—M. M. Estee has made public a letter in which he states that the proceedings brought to contest the election for Governor have been with his knowledge and consent. The proceedings have not been brought with the view of changing the result of the election by technical means, but to expose frauds in San Francisco.

Mr. Estee says that he is impelled to make this statement in order to contradict charges made by a partisan press, that the contest is being made against his wishes.

M. H. Hammett, a well-known business man of Hillsboro, Va., sends this testimony to the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla: "Several years ago, I hurt my leg, the injury leaving a sore which led to erysipelas. My sufferings were extreme, my leg from the knee to the ankle, being a solid sore, which began to extend to other parts of the body. After trying various remedies, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the first bottle, experienced great relief; the second bottle effected a complete cure."

The San Francisco Robbery a Fake.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 12.—The local police now refuse to further investigate the alleged robbery through which Mrs. William Brown was relieved of $500 in an Ellis street lodging-house. The Browns have departed for Eureka. The police charge that since the robbery Brown has fraternized with a gang of confidence men who are supposed to have robbed his wife and that he was given the money to keep still. The police also charge that the suspected bunco steers came to the city with Brown from the north, where the crowd swindled a countryman out of about $2,700.

What's the Matter With the Officers.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—For some time past it has become a regular pastime on each evening at about the time for the trains to arrive for a large number of boys to gather at the depot and occupy the waiting room to the discomfort of travelers and the latter are also subjected to the annoyance of listening to all sorts of disgusting language while waiting for trains. The same thing frequently occurs on the arrival of the afternoon train from the east.

The railroad officials claim that they have called the attention of the local officers to this matter several times but so far it has had no effect. There are four or five local officers in town besides the Sheriff and his deputies who should look into this. It seems as if the ringing of the curfew bell each evening, instead of warning the boys to go to their homes simply notifies them to assemble at the depot and whoop it up until the trains have pulled out. It has become the town talk, and the reputation of the disorderly depot at Reno is rapidly spreading over the country. Why not someone in authority see that this racket is stopped. Reno, Dec. 12, 1894. CITIZEN.

A New Bicycle Tire.

A new tire for bicycles is made on the plan of the pneumatic, but has a series of transverse rubber disks within the tube, dividing its interior into a number of independent air chambers. Should one chamber be punctured the whole tire will not collapse, but the two adjoining chambers being still inflated, will enable the rider to continue his journey until the break can be repaired.

THE PRESS EXCURSIONISTS.

They Arrived at a Late Hour Last Night.

The Banquet in Their Honor Postponed Until This Evening—They Visit the Comstock to-day.

During all day yesterday the townspeople were kept in a state of uneasiness from the reports that now and then came regarding the arrival of the Press Association. Early in the day Messrs. E. D. Kelley, R. L. Fulton and A. C. Bragg, part of the special reception committee, left on the swing train for Truckee, where they expected to meet the excursionists, receive and escort them to Reno.

Soon after they left, news came that the wreck of a freight train had occurred at New England Mills, the other side of Colfax, and that the special would be delayed. Later Dr. Bergstein, chairman of the general committee, received a telegram that the party would probably reach Reno about 6 o'clock. The hour of arrival was again extended to 9 p. m., and finally set at 11 o'clock. The delay was a great disappointment, as nearly everyone had taken more or less interest in the reception, and were desirous of giving the visitors a hearty Nevada welcome. The ladies of the 20th Century Club had worked with tireless energy in preparing the banquet, and the Pavilion was handsomely decorated. The tables were marvels of beauty, being tastefully decorated with flowers and arranged on each side of the hall and a cross table for the toast master and those who were to reply to the toasts at the head of the hall, and immediately back of this table the orchestra was seated.

The menu card was headed with, "Now good digestion wait on appetite, and health on both."—Mackbeth.

The following is the list of good things that were to be placed before our guests:

MENTU.
Oysters—New York select.
Chicken salad on mayonnaise, Cheese straws.
Spanish Olives. Dainty Chops.
Boned Turkey. Sugar Cured Ham.
Saratoga Chips.
Cranberry Jelly. Currant Jelly.
Selected Pickles.
Chocolate Cake.
Angel Food. Lady Fingers.
Nut Cake. Pound Cake.
Neapolitan Ice Cream. Assorted Fruit.
Coffee. Chocolate.

At 10 o'clock the following telegram was received:

SUMMIT, December 12.
Dr. Bergstein:—Impossible to have banquet to-night. Everyone going to bed. Can you get V. & T. to run the party by special to-morrow so they can give us to-morrow evening. If not they cannot stop with us. The V. & T. might take them to Carson to-night.
(Signed.) R. L. FULTON.

The receipt of this telegram cast a gloom over the entire proceedings, the ladies being terribly disappointed and the committee not knowing what to do. After a consultation it was decided to postpone the banquet until this evening and endeavor to persuade the excursionists to remain over and spend the day in Reno. The announcement was made to some fifty or sixty persons present and all adjourned to await developments.

THE PRESS ASSOCIATION ARRIVES.
At 12:20 last night the excursion train arrived and was met by members of the reception committee who endeavored to persuade the excursionists to spend to-day in Reno and carry out the program previously arranged. It was finally decided that the excursionists would take the V. & T. train, go to Virginia and return this evening and immediately on the arrival of the V. & T. they will repair to the pavilion, where the banqueting program that should have taken place last night will be carried out. Mr. W. H. Mills will remain over in Reno. Following is a list of those composing the party, also the names of the papers they represent:

Total cost.....$13,388 23

The above figures show a deficiency of $1,552 38 that will doubtless have to be paid by some one. There is a great difference of opinion among our citizens as to whether the Nevada exhibit at the Midwinter Exposition proved of any direct benefit to the State. It is true that the exhibit was creditable and doubtless attracted more or less notice to our resources; yet, when it is considered that over $12,000 had to be drawn from the people of the State during the depression that was and is now existing in nearly every branch of business, besides the large amount of money expended by residents of the State in visiting the fair show, it would seem that the fair had been an expensive luxury, and it will be some time before Nevada realizes any benefit out of the fifty or sixty thousand dollars that has been directly or indirectly drawn out of the pockets of the people.

John Sunderland.

This well known merchant makes an announcement in another column that will interest everyone. His stock of boots, shoes and footwear cannot be excelled anywhere, and in the line of clothing, gents' furnishing goods, neckwear, handkerchiefs, etc., there are few houses on the coast that can show a better assortment or finer goods. His Christmas stock is immense, and in the line of fancy silk handkerchiefs, suspenders, hats, caps and other nice presents for gentlemen, his prices are down to bedrock. Look over his advertisement and see what he offers.

The Emancipated Pocket.

"The bloomer," argued the old-fashioned person, "tends to deprive women of the protection of those intangible bulwarks which are her greatest defense."

"The fin de siecle creature was quite prepared to agree with the contention. 'I found that out,' she said, 'the very first time I wore mine on the street.'"

"Were you insulted?"

"No; I had my pocket picked."—Detroit Tribune.

At the Salvation Army to-night there will be a Grand Hoseanna Jubilee meeting. After the meeting coffee and cake will be served for 15 cents. Everybody welcome.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

WORLD'S FAIR AWARD

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

JOHN BOYD THACHER, Chairman of the Executive Committee on Awards at the Columbian Exposition, writing from Washington, D. C., to the Price Baking Powder Company, says:

"I herewith enclose you an official copy of your award, which in due time, will be inscribed in the Diploma, and forwarded to your address, unless otherwise indicated by you."

Thus are the honors awarded Dr. Price's Baking Powder at the World's Fair fully verified.

On the other hand the claims to awards at the Fair by a New York Baking Powder are proven wholly false. Official records show it was not even an exhibitor. Was it because it contained Ammonia?

PASSES AWAY.

An Old and Respectable Citizen of Nevada Dies at San Francisco.

John C. Fall, one of Nevada's oldest citizens, died at San Francisco Monday at the age of 84 years and 2 months. He was born at Stanton, Va., coming to California in the pioneer days and locating at Marysville, Cal., and for many years was in the mercantile business in that city. In the early days of Nevada he came over to this State and for a long time was a resident of Unionville, Humboldt county. He took an active part in the formation of our State government and was always recognized as one of the foremost citizens of the State. He was a genial companion and was esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves a widow who resides in San Francisco, also two daughters, one of whom is the wife of ex-Governor J. H. Kinkadee, the other being the wife of Captain Frederick Rogers of the U. S. N. now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. His remains will be taken to Marysville for interment.

Give The Farmer Facts.

The average planter has but little use for finely spun theory, whether it pertains to the relation of his condition to politics or whether it deals with the best ways and means of growing the best crops. What he wants is facts. No one has realized this more than the great seed firm of D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Mich., who for forty years have been studying the wants and condition of planters, large and small, and as a result have created the largest seed business in the whole world. Without doubt, a strict adherence to the policy of dealing in facts represents the secret of their success. They know their seeds are right before they are sent to the many thousand dealers from whom the planter gets them. The dealer knows this to be a fact requiring no further question, and the planter finds it to be a substantial fact when harvest time comes. Another illustration of the value of this method is found in Ferry's Seed Annual, in which there is nothing but facts. Facts that are of permanent value to every planter; facts about how, when and where to plant, that can be had from no other source. There are no worthy facts left out, and no unworthy theories let in. This book is sent free to everyone who asks for it. A postal card with your name and address sent the firm will bring it to you.

Carson Will Entertain.

Carson has decided to entertain the Press Association by giving a grand ball and reception there this evening. The three newspaper publishers there have been placed in charge of the affair and Mr. D. A. Bender has been appointed to meet the excursionists on their arrival here and bid them welcome on behalf of the Carsonites. No program of speeches will be arranged, but Hon. W. H. Mills will be asked to make a few remarks before the ball opens. The Carson people always do things up in good style, and the Association may depend on a good time.

No Papers Have Been Served.

The report current yesterday that the papers in the contest suit against Sheriff Coughlin had been served was not true. The Sheriff disclaims having any knowledge of the suit other than street talk.

FORCE OF HABIT.
Evangeline's Calm Response to the Flending Voice of Her Mother.
CHAPTER I.
Evangeline O'Glarry came home from the ball weary and drowsy. Prior to the ball she had been working all day in the telephone office. Despite the fatigue and weariness which crushed her, however, she felt it would be impossible to sleep with the memory of Archibald Rooney's manly voice ringing in her ears. She had been beautiful that night, she knew, but Archibald had been cold and distant, save for one word of formal greeting in his resonant, baritone tones. Restlessly she thought it over while tossing sadly upon her couch and gazing through the damask curtains out upon the pallid, gibbous moon.
"He loves another!" she murmured in an ecstasy of pain. "Even though I have over discriminated in his favor when any one calls up central for his number."
CHAPTER II.
Worn out with fatigue and sorrow and heedless of the fact that she must be at the downtown telephone exchange at 8 in the morning, Evangeline did not fall asleep until the onyx and ovoid ornamental clock on the mantel told the hour of 8.
Then she slept.
CHAPTER III.
"Evangeline! Evangeline!"
It was her mother's voice calling her in the morning.
"Evangeline! Get up! You told me to call you up at 7, and it's 7:30!"
Evangeline turned uneasily in her slumber. The spoken number had dimly reached the innermost recesses of her brain.
Her ripe lips moved.
"Busy now," she murmured mechanically. "Call 'em up again!"—Chicago

A FROST FOR A FROST.
Colonel Stupsky Puts a Gentleman on Ice
to Take the Chill Out.
The Sabbath calm that usually reigns seven days in the week at the Hon. Jim Cromin's establishment at Twenty-first and Market was violently disturbed early in the week by Colonel Abe Slup-sky, the school board reformer, who attempted to kill, murder and slay Mr. F.
C. Howard by freezing him to death in Mr. Cromin's icebox. Colonel Slupsky dropped into the saloon with a couple of friends just as Mr. Howard, who seems to have been blowing himself, invited him to take something.
When he saw the colonel ranging up to the bar, Mr. Howard looked at him severely and said, "Nay, nay, Pauline;
it's off!"
"What's off?" queried Slupsky, who had not been aware of Howard's generous intentions.
"Your graft. We are not playing rings on this track. You're ruled off the course. In other words, such drinks as you pay for you gets; not otherwise.
See!"
"I was paralyzed," Abe confided to a friend. "I never laid eyes on the fellow in my life before, nor he on me, but I couldn't stand a play of that sort, you know. Great Scott! If I had all the drinks that are coming to me! Well, anyhow, I put a quarter in the darky's hand and whispered him to open that long, low icebox Jim has over against the wall and leave it open, and then I walked up to Mr. Howard and said:
"I don't know who you are, sir, but you mustn't leave me out of a general treat this way. It hurts my feelings."
"He said he'd see me gorned first,
and with that I caught him, and before he could even begin to cuss any I had him in that icebox, with the cover down. Well, sir, I thought I'd die. He was the most surprised man I ever saw in my life. I guess that icebox was about the last place on this earth he thought he was heading for when he began his play."
"Well, I went to the door and stood there, although at first I intended to keep him there until he agreed to treat me. While they were getting him out and peeling the things off him somebody asked him what he wanted to insult Congressman Frank that way for."
"Great Scott! Was that Congressman Frank?" he says. "Let me see him," and he came to me, with his hand out, saying, "Congressman, you must forgive me. I had never seen you before, and I'm sorry that I insulted you."
"I stood on my congressional dignity awhile and asked what my constituents would think of it if they heard I was grafting for a drink, but finally I forgave him, and we all went in and had something. I invited him to come down and see me at my office in the Turner building, and when he calls I guess Nat Frank and he will have a nice time getting themselves straightened out."
"I'd give a dollar to see the interview between 'em."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
Something Green on the Moon.
Grass grows on the moon. Louis Gathmann says he has seen it with his telescope, but it is all burned up now, just like the grass on the earth.
Mr. Gathmann, while observing the moon on the evening of Aug. 12, was struck by a peculiar green spot on the northwestern edge of the satellite's upper limb. At first he thought there was some obstruction in his telescope that caused the appearance, but when he allowed the moon to pass through the whole field of the glass the spot was still stationary. It was almost rectangular in form, with a bastionlike projection at each corner, and was located near the crater of Tycho Brahe, and Professor Gathmann estimated that it was about 40 by 70 miles in area. When Mr. Gathmann looked for the spot 23 hours later, it was gone. He believes that it was vegetation.
His theory is that when a hemisphere of the moon's surface first begins to revolve into the sunlight the heat of that luminary draws moisture from the moon's interior and vegetation springs up, to be at once withered by the terrific heat that falls upon the moon when the sun's rays strike it directly.
A Salvation Army Boycott.
The Salvation Army is being boycotted in Finland. So strictly is this being carried out that any mention of the army in print or any advertisement bearing on the movement is sufficient to cause an entire issue of a newspaper to be canceled.—London Tit-Bits.
